“This little light of mine, I’m goin’ a let it shine.”

We sing those words, but do we live them? Consider these ideas for sharing Jesus, the light of the world:

- Create a Christmas gift, or create one together with a child, and then share it with someone you know or the child knows who helps and serves within the community—a teacher, a librarian, a police officer or fireman, or another community helper.
- Make a prayer jar and fill it with names of people you love. Draw a few names each day to include in prayer.
- On Christmas Eve, gather your loved ones and join your church family in the church service.
- Offer a cup of hot chocolate or coffee to someone who works outdoors.
- Visit someone you know who might feel lonely at Christmas and bring a goody bag of snacks, a pocket book of word games, or other items along with a card or personal note.

In Matthew 5:16, Jesus encourages his followers to “let your light shine before all people” (CEB). Share your faith, not only at Christmas, but every day of the year!
