

January 27, 2019

Mission Moment

The words of the Apostle's Creed are familiar to most of us. This Creed is not exclusive to United Methodists; in fact, it points us to be more inclusive of our fellow Christian believers.

"I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic church, the communion of saints";..... The word "catholic" in this creed also means "universal" or "general". When we consider that the universal church stretches beyond the boundaries of nation and denomination, the body of Christ becomes much larger than we might imagine.

In the United Methodist Church we do the holy work of fostering unity within this grand universal church through the Interdenominational Cooperation Fund.

This fund supports the relationship between the UMC and other churches so that in the face of global or local conflict, we can act as a unified body in service and efforts toward peace and justice in the world.

Because of our support, we continue to stand beside Christians around the globe as a witness to the unity of Christ's church.