Mission Moment

Since March 2018, the men's fellowship at Granary United Methodist Church in Zimbabwe, has strived toward one common goal; to build a parsonage.

"It is progressing very well" says the men's fellowship chair. The men's group is saving money by using members' talents in transportation of building material, supervision of builders and coordinating the work with the city council inspectors. One church member, a carpenter by profession will be installing the parsonage roof, while others have supplied cement, doorframes and stone.

Lay leaders explained "that building the parsonage will ensure our pastor and family stay at a convenient place and saves money by not paying rent."

Lay leaders are happy to see the spirit of togetherness within the church, which has seen a growth in numbers as men lead in giving, together with their families.

Their daily prayer is "Let's do what we can, while we can, ... In everything, God will always provide."

When our congregation supports the World Service Fund, we strengthen the outreach of United Methodist men's ministries.
