

November 12, 2017

Mission Moment

In November, we celebrate Native American Heritage Month. We celebrate all the ways that Native Americans contribute to our country, culture and churches. The United Methodist Church recognizes that we are woven together in our American heritage as well as in our common worship with those Native Americans who are members alongside us. This involves remembering and acknowledging hurts of the past and seeking that we might move forward together as God's beloved, worshiping and living together as God's diverse people.

On Native American Heritage Sunday, we celebrate the God who created us all, stamping each one of us in the image of the Creator. We celebrate the wisdom and witness of our Native American brothers and sisters who remind us to honor the gift of creation by our Creator.